New York, NY – July 20, 2009 – Fountain Gallery, located at 702 Ninth Avenue at 48th Street and representing artists living and working with mental illness, announces the opening of Dollars & Sense, an exhibition of recent works priced at $500 and under, which will run from July 31 through September 16, 2009, with an Opening Reception on July 31, from 6 to 8 p.m. Dollars & Sense is curated by Bernard Stote.

"Dollars & Sense is an artistic stimulus package," said Stote, a New York City-based artist and designer who has produced several exhibitions and special sale events at Fountain Gallery. Continued Stote, "This show provides an opportunity for experienced collectors and first-time buyers alike to purchase original works of art by more than 50 artists at exceptionally attractive prices."

The exhibition showcases works hung "salon style" in mediums ranging from acrylic, watercolor, and oil painting to digital and black and white photography, mixed media, and sculpture. In keeping with the show's theme, curator Stote has arrayed the Gallery's walls in shades of bright green (think dollar bill) and bold pink (think piggy bank).
